

Please safeguard the 'do not call' list. Before we registered and began to enjoy its protection, our privacy was constantly invaded by teese annoying telemarketers. Nor did their calls gain them anything with us; our family policy is to never deal with any company using such a program. In fact, if we got such a call from a company we had been dealing with, we dropped them on the spot. We recommend this policy to all our friends and family.